It's March! Celebrate St Patrick’s Day

Happy March! As we slowly move toward spring, parents are probably going to be more excited than ever for some warm weather and the ability to play outside! However, March weather can certainly be unpredictable. Here are a few activities for speech and language practice that can be done outside or inside, so kids can have something to keep them busy no matter the weather!

Search for shamrocks (or other green things!)

Outside:
Search for shamrocks, leaves, pine needles, or anything else that is green! Talk about how these things are similar and different with some descriptive language (Is it small, big, soft, hard, shiny, sharp, soft?).

Inside:
Do the same activity, but see how many green things you can find in your home. In addition to the descriptions listed above, his might lead to even more descriptive language (Where does it belong in the house? What category is it in? What do you do with it?).

Make a rainbow

Outside:
Use chalk to draw a rainbow on the sidewalk or your driveway. While drawing, practice an articulation target word for each color that you use!

Inside:
Create a rainbow using whatever craft materials you have in your home – maybe use several different materials in one picture! Practice your speech sounds while drawing and then hang the rainbows around your house for home springtime cheerfulness!

Do some yoga and notice how you feel

Outside or inside, this can be a great way to move your body. Work in some language practice by describing how your body and brain feel when you do yoga! Does your brain feel calm, energized, relaxed? Does stretching feel good on your arms, legs, back, neck?
